Baby Festival Plans Told; Registration Starts Today

Registration will open for the South Bay Area "Little Guys and Gals Show and Baby Festival of 1961" in three cities today at 10 a.m. In Torrance, registrations are to be made at the Toy King Shop, 1265 Sartori; in Redondo at the Dunlaps Department Store, 260 Harbor Drive; in Gardena at the Gardena Department Store, 1106 Gardena Blvd.

First one hundred entries will receive toys. Over one hundred trophies will be given to the winners of 25 different age groups. Babies will be accepted between the ages of one month and six years. There is no cost to the parents for entering the children in the contest.

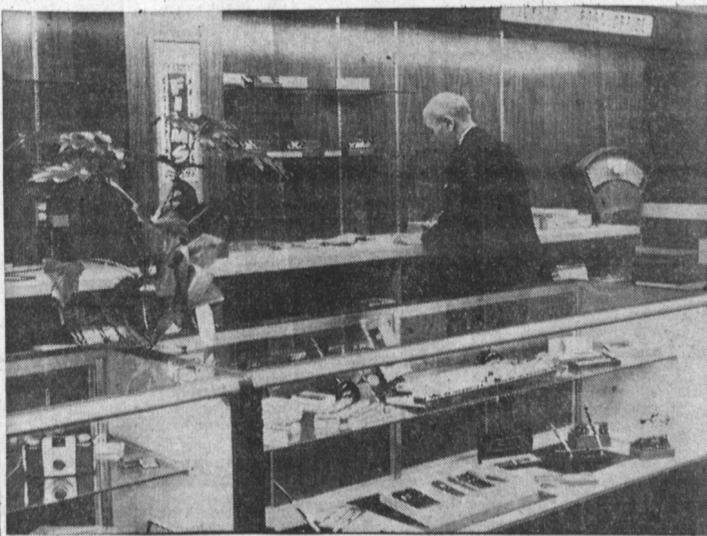

A free health examination will be given to each participant, prior to the baby beauty show which will be held a week later. Health awards will be given to babies rating over 90% from the doctor's chart.

Finale will be the coronation of Torrance "King and Queen," and a "King and Queen" of Redondo and Gardena will be presented in royalty robes to represent the Court of St. James in miniature.

Talented youngsters over six years old will entertain their majesties. Ten fathers will participate in a diaper pinning race which will be a highlight of the festivities. The show is scheduled for March 1 at the Torrance High School auditorium.

Parents are requested to bring a snapshot or unframed photo of the baby at the time of registrations. These will be returned before completion of the show and will be used for identification purposes only.

Program is being sponsored by the California National Guard, 3rd Recon., 195th Armor Div., Troop O.

DESIGNER of new student store facilities of El Camino College was Manager Eugene Carson, working above in the college ticket agency. In addition to regular services and merchandise, the store includes a branch post office which sees heavy use by students and the college staff.

Authentic Foods Added to Exotic Polynesian Menu

Contributing further to the new Tahitian theme now prevailing at The Polynesian, tropical restaurant in Torrance, authentic foods of Tahiti have been added to the dining establishment's exotic menu.

The new Tahitian dishes, augmenting the other island and cantonese fare, include Eia Ota (Tahitian limed fish salad) and the Tahitian Tamaara, which consists mainly of Puaa Himaa (roast pig cooked in underground pit), Pota, baked yams and Fei (native bananas).

Name Dick Joosten Rancho Drive Head

Dick Joosten has been named to head the new Rancho drive for St. Gerard Council Knights of Columbus. It was announced today by Charles Butterfield, Grand Knight of that organization.

This drive which is the main project of the Southern California Chapter of the K of C is used to finance Rancho San Antonio in Chats worth, the "Boys Town of the West," a home for boys who are victims of parental breakup or misdirected environment where they are rehabilitated socially and spiritually.

Last year St. Gerard, a new Council won first place among Councils of 150 men or less and was awarded the St. Anthony Award by His Eminence, Cardinal MacIntyre.

Joosten has been very active in Knights of Columbus.

Unitarians Schedule "Weed Bee"

Members of the Pacific Unitarian Church will show up in dungarees instead of their Sunday-go-to-meeting best at services next Sunday, January 29.

And they'll be carrying shovels and hoes when they turn up for 11 a.m. services at the Seventh-day Adventist Church, 1610 Acacia Ave., where the congregation has been meeting since it was formed some three years ago.

After a brief service, members will head for a vacant lot at 235th St. and Eshelman Ave. where they'll hear a short dedication by the Reverend Richard W. F. Seebode, church minister.

Ten they'll pitch in on a "weed bee," during which they'll tidy up a lot recently acquired for a future church structure of their own.

EC Campus Center Expanded To Meet Needs of Students

Taking a giant stride in its building-expansion program, El Camino College is seeing the completion of an addition to its Campus Center which includes an ultra-modern student store.

The modern addition, located directly north of the Campus Center, was designed to meet the requirements of an eventual enrollment of 20,000 students.

Eugene Carson, manager of the student store, especially designed the facility with much consideration being given to El Camino's increasing enrollment. The store is expected to gain recognition as one of the finest facilities of its kind on any college campus.

Measuring 60 by 90 feet, the store was planned on a self-service basis. It contains everything a student might need, including textbooks, pocket books, sundries, candies, greeting cards, a mutual ticket agency and the college's own post office. It utilizes four cash registers, and has excellent warehouse facilities, along with ample office space.

"The college store is self-supporting; all equipment was paid for from profits of the store," Manager Carson noted.

Other areas of the new structure include offices for faculty personnel heading the student activities program and student study and lounge areas which will also be utilized for such functions as registration, receptions and other social aspects of the student activities program on campus.

HEADACHE JOB
Why the editor's job is a headache. "Professor Ernest Brennecke, of Columbia University, is credited with the discovery of a sentence that can be made to have eight different meanings by placing the word 'only' in all possible positions in the sentence: 'I hit him in the eye yesterday.'" —Coronet.
